DEMANDS VOLSTEAD ACT BE MODIFIED

REED, IN OPENING HIS CAMPAIGN HITS ACT.

DENOUNCES INVASION

Crowd of 2,500 Hears Adroit Attack on Prohibition at the Mexico Meeting.

REED'S PLATFORM.

Urges 'reasonable modification'' of the Volstead act.

Indorsement of Democratic platform and Democratic candidates, 'without qualification and without execution.''

Condemnation of Republican state platform.

Denunciation of tariff and anti-lynching bill.

Charges Republican leaders in the national house of representatives and President Harding have come under direct influences of great financial and corporate interests.

Criticises appointment of Andrew J. Mellon as secretary of the treasury.

Charges Mellon inspired Harding's stand on bonus.

Asserts representatives of trusts and combines, under indictment and sometimes under conviction for having combined to control prices, appeared before senate finance committee and obtained a tremendous advance in tariff rates.

Mexico, Mo., Sept. 28. — Declaring for a ''reasonable'' modification of the prohibition law, United States Senator James A. Reed, last night, in an address here, opened his campaign for re-election on the Democratic ticket.

Senator Reed had been challenged by his Republican opponent, R. R. Brewster, to declare himself on the prohibition question in last night's speech. Brewster, in the primary campaign, declared himself as being ''as dry as the eighteenth amendment.''

Mr. Reed stated he favored a ''reasonable'' modification of the dry law, ''so that the rights of the citizen shall be protected against the unwise and often brutal acts of prohibition officials.''

No Mention of League.

Reed did not mention the League, but mentioned former President Wilson's name once in referring to Mr. Wilson's veto of the prohibition bill.

The senator asserted that all sections of the constitution should be enforced, and in this connection emphasized that the fourth amendment which guarantees that rights of citizens shall be secure, should not be overlooked. The speaker asserted he believed that prohibition should be left to the respective states, and explained that he opposed the eighteenth amendment ''on the grounds that it invaded the rights of states.''

''It is universally recognized,'' declared Senator Reed, ''that when congress declared the manufacture of any beverage containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol to be a violation of the law, it went to the extreme limit.

Buttermilk Alcoholic.

''Buttermilk, ordinary sour buttermilk, contains much more than one-half of one per cent alcohol.''

He referred to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon as ''per haps the wealthiest man in the United States,'' and stated that Mr. Mellon ''interposed his powerful arm to prevent the passage of the first soldiers' bonus bill.'' Later, he said a ''so-called bonus bill was passed with the almost certain knowledge that it would be vetoed.''

Secretary Mellon, the speaker asserted, ''turned his back on the soldiers and his face toward the millionaires and profiteers who heaped up gold at home, while the boys shed their blood on France's crimson fields.''

Discussing the new tariff, Senator Reed said:

Taxes Everything.

''The tariff bill taxes everything from the swaddling clothes of infancy to the coffin of old age; the cotton socks worn by labor, the gingham apron of the kitchen, and the silk and woolen dresses worn by ladies of fashion.

He declared: ''The appalling and most unbelievable fact that the representatives of trusts and combinations, charged under indictment and sometimes under conviction for having combined to control prices and to rob the American people, boldly appeared before the committee of finance, and demanded and obtained a tremendous advance in existing tariff rates.''

FLOATS TO COME FROM MANY POINTS

LARGEST NUMBER YESTERDAY OF ANY DAY YET

OTHER FLOATS TODAY

$300 in Prize Money and $5 for Each Float—The List of Those Calling Yesterday

The largest number of schools of any day so far signified their intention yesterday of putting floats in the parade for the Nodaway County School Day, which is to be held in Maryville October 11. The schools are from various parts of the county. Many of them who were in communication with Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools, expressed themselves as believing that it was a fine idea, one of the best they know of. Others are saying today that they will have floats.

Every school that Mr. Somerville was in touch with yesterday was in favor of sending a float with the exception of one or two that doubted if there was any way in which they could get the float to Maryville. He said this morning that he believed that these schools would also be in favor of sending floats if they had any way to get them to town.

Three hundred dollars is to be given in prize money for the best eight floats in the parade and in addition to this each of the floats that is entered will receive $5.

Following is the list of schools that signified their intention yesterday of coming in and the teachers that have them in charge:

MARYVILLE HIGH SCHOOL TO PLAY TARKIO TOMORROW

Is a Pre-Conference Game—Large Number Expected to Accompany Team

The Maryville High School will start its football schedule with a pre-conference game with Tarkio at Tarkio tomorrow afternoon. This was announced by Coach Frank Lawrence at an assembly of the high school this morning. Nothing is known of the Tarkio team this year but Tarkio has always been a jinx to Maryville in all athletics.

The local team has been having hard workouts for the last few weeks and is in fine shape. There will probably be sixteen men on the squad that will make the trip, but who will make the squad as yet is not known. There is a great deal of competition for all of the positions.

A large number of local rooters are expected to make the trip in order to see the high school team in action for the first time this fear.

300 ATTEND THE S. S. CONVENTION

OFFICIALS SAY THAT IT IS A SUCCESSFUL GATHERING

NO OFFICERS ANNOUNCED

Separate Conferences Yesterday Afternoon and a Pageant Last Night

The Tenth Annual convention of the Nodaway County Sunday School Association, which closed in Maryville at about 4 o'clock this afternoon is pronounced by officials of the association as being one of the most successful tat has ever been held. The attendance this afternoon had reached the 300 mark.

A committee for making nominations for the officers for the ensuing year was appointed last night and held a meeting after the pageant at the Baptist Church. It seemed to have trouble in getting persons to serve and at press time this afternoon no announcement was ready as to who the officers for the next year will be.

The sessions have been carried out today pretty much according to schedule, with talks by Sterling L. Williams and a number of local persons.

Mrs. F. P. Robinson sang a solo at the opening of the program yesterday evening, the devotional was led by the Rev. B. F. Cline and the cong service was led by Sterling L. Williams of Kansas City, young people's superintendent for the State Sunday School Association.

Division Conferences

The outstanding features of the division conferences, held yesterday afternoon, was the children's division, presided over by Mrs. L. E. White. Miss Ruth Matter and Mrs. Guy Haller put on an ideal primary program for the meeting of a primary class. They had the children there and went through with the lesson and exercises just as it should be gone through with. Mrs. J. W. Cornell and Mrs. Charles Gaugh had charge of the cradle roll, Mrs. Ellis Cook had charge of the juniors and Mrs. Marve Curnutt had the beginners. Mrs. White said last night that both the workers in charge of the four departments of the children's divisions and the children themselves who were used in the division, deserve compliments for what they did.

F. H. Barrett presided over the administration division. The subject discussed was "The program of work of the Administration Division."

Miles Spargur presided at the adult and home division meeting. The discussion was on the subject "Practical Program of Service for the Adult Class."

In the young people's division Townsend Godsey spoke on "Geneva Echoes," based on his trip to Lake Geneva with the Older Boys during the summer and the general subject of the meeting was that of "The Young People's Council."

Sterling Williams, spoke at each of the separate conferences.

"Bearers of Light"

The pageant, "Bearers of Light," given last night at the First Baptist Church, was the biggest general attraction of the convention. It was given by the Sunday schools of Polk township and had fifty-two characters, played by nearly this many persons. A large crowd attended.

The pageant had five episodes which showed the progress of Christianity throughout the last nineteen centuries. Each episode dealt with some important period in the history of religion. The periods were those of the Primitive Christian Church, the Crusades, Protestant Reformation, the Pilgrim movement and religious activities of today. The pageant ended in a processional in which the characters marched down the aisle to the back of the church and outside, singing "Onward Christian Soldiers.

HIGH COMPLIMENT TO HEALTH DEPT.

NODAWAY 3 YEARS AHEAD, SAYS NATION'S GREATEST WORKER

DUE TO CO-OPERATION

Dr. Lumsden Says That He Has Never Seen a Place Where Everyone Worked Together as Well

Nodaway County in its health program is three or four years ahead of the rest of the State of Missouri, even in the counties where there are health departments, and it is that way because of the co-operation that has been given the health department by the various organizations of the county, according to Dr. L. L. Lumsden, director of the United States Public Health Service, who left yesterday afternoon after a short stay in Nodaway County to look over the work of the department here. He was accompanied by Dr. Thomas R. Parran, Jr., of the division of rural sanitation of the State.

''I have never been in a community in my life,'' said Dr. Lumsden yesterday afternoon, ''where the physicians, the hospitals, the Chamber of Commerce the farm bureau, the teachers, the College and any other organizations they might happen to have offered such support to a department as has been offered right here in Nodaway County. This support has made it possible for the health department to accomplish some remarkable things for the short time it has been established here.''

Dr. Lumsden complimented the county on the work that had been done during the summer in the clinics and for the number of corrections that had been made among defective school children and on the number of operations that had been carried on for tonsils and adenoids, where it was necessary. He complimented the schools of the county on the number of improvements that had been made along sanitary lines in the last year.

Dr. Lumsden is a big man in the field of public health work. He is director of the U. S. Service and outranks any other man in this line, according to Dr. Claude P. Fryer. He has visited many health departments and has seen much public health work done.

Dr. Parran said that of the eleven counties in the state that have public health departments the one in Nodaway County leads them all. The eleventh in the state is the one in Gentry County, which has just been established. Dr. A. G. Gigger, who is to have charge in Gentry County, is here getting pointers and Dr. W. Leland Mitchell, international public health worker is also visiting here to get pointers.

When Pettis County established its public health department, with headquarters at Sedalia, it sent its doctor, who was to have charge of the work, here to get pointers.

S. P. ALLISON MAKES TRIPS TO ST. JOSEPH AND ST. LOUIS

A Plan for Grouping of the Churches Of This Presbytery—Team Visitation

On Monday, the Rev. S. P. Allison, of the Presbyterian Church was in St. Joseph attending the meeting of the committees of the St. Joseph Presbytery. Each committee met separately, then from their reports a consolidated program was worked out for the Fall and Winter work of the Presbytery.

Dr. Marion Humphreys, the executive secretary, presented a plan for grouping the churches of Presbytery, with group and associate group leaders. This Fall a team visitation of all the churches is planned for the good weather. The Maryville group, of which Mr. Allison is the leader, is the Maryville church, Hopkins, Graham and Maitland. Later on in the year educational institutes are planned at some center in each group.

Tuesday evening Mr. Allison left for St. Louis. There he attended the meeting of the foreign missions committee of the Synod of Missouri. He also attended the meeting of all the directors of stewardship in the various Presbyteries, and a meeting of the New Era committee of the Synod.

These meetings were held at the First Presbyterian Church of St. Louis. At the same time, and in connection, there was being held a normal institute conducting classes for those who will during the year lead classes in missionary education and stewardship, especially for the leaders in St. Louis Presbytery. One group attended in the mornings, and another group came for sessions in the evening. ATHENS OCCUPIED BY REVOLUTIONISTS

CAN'T START DEMONSTRATIONS FOR CONSTANTINE.

CROWN PRINCE TO THRONE

Official Dispatches to Washington Say There Is Stronger Favor for the Allies.

Athens, Sept. 28. — Revolutionary troops today occupied Athens. Various government buildings were seized. Soldiers and sailors are patrolling the streets. It is estimated from 15,000 to 20,000 revolutionary troops are in Athens and suburbs.

Attempts to start demonstrations in favor of former King Constantine failed.

Business is partly suspended owing to the public excitement. The ringleaders of the uprising declare the Greek army will defend Thrace and war against the Turks if the Turks try to occupy Thrace.

Constantine is in seclusion. There are conflicting rumors of his activities and whereabouts.

Crown Prince George of Greece accepted the Hellenic throne, succeeding his father, former King Constantine, who abdicated as a result of the military and naval revolution, it was announced today. It is rumored King Constantine was seized by revolutionists and imprisoned but this is not confirmed.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Since the entrance of the revolutiony troops into Athens, public opinion veered strongly in favor of the allied powers, said official dispatches received at the Greek legation here today. The people marched to the British, Italian and French legations, cheering the allies.

ATHLETIC EXERCISE FOR GIRLS

There has been much discussion among physicians and parents as to how far the most active physical exercises and games are suited to women and girls. Some have insisted that serious harm resulted in many cases from vigorous sports. Others have argued that the women of primitive ages were able to do just as hard work as men, and that in time the modern women would be able to take her full part in physical effort alongside of men. One would like to believe the latter theory, and if correct it means a tremendous gain in the capacity of the race.

A careful investigation of this subject has been made the past summer by the Royal College of Preceptors of England, which suggests that considerable caution is still needed in encouraging girls and young women to go in for violent exercise. Their report however is quite favorable to the playing of lawn tennis, basket ball, and golf and various other games.

Swimming was approved also, but it should be strictly supervised, on account of the strain it puts on the heart. Racing in rowing was condemned by the majority of doctors.

The ill effects of active games were found in almost all cases to be due to lack of thorough medical examination. It is true of both boys and girls that they ought to have a very careful going over by competent doctors before entering the more vigorous sports.

While millions of women do a lot of hard physical work, still on the whole the life of that sex has not been such as to develop physical strength. Naturally not many of them can as yet take up the harder sports that young men enjoy. But women are steadily growing in muscular and physical power. These gains they will transmit to their offspring, who perhaps some day can attempt many of the same things that men do.

GOOD WEATHER AND ROADS BRING TOURISTS AGAIN

Three Parties, Two of Them Large Ones, Were Camped at the Park Last Night

The good fall weather and the condition of the roads is bringing a string of tourists through Maryville again, and the register at the Tourists Park has a number of new names added to it each day. Three different parties were camped at the park early yesterday evening, and they were traveling in five motor cars and trucks. The biggest party was that of R. E. Miller of Butler, Mo. There were ten in his party. They had been to the Dakotas for some time and were on their way home. Mr. Miller is a truck farmer at Butler. He was acquainted with Night Watchman Frank McKee of Maryville and said that he was coming up town to hunt him up.

Another large party was that of Olin and Everett Rossell and their families of Scottsbluff, Neb. The members of this party were on their way to Florida to spend the winter, they said. They were taking their time for the trip and had already spent a week or more on the way. They said that they were traveling south about as fast as the cool weather came, so as to keep in a pleasing temperature at all times.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cunningham of Kansas City formed the third party. Mr. Cunningham is connected with the John H. Kitchen & Co., engineers and equipment, of Kansas City. They had been to the Michigan lakes fishing and were on their way home.

In addition to these a number of others have registered at the park in the past few days.

Buttermilk "Spree" Is New.

The buttermilk spree is a late sport. There are several places downtown where a person can drink buttermilk to repletion upon payment of a nickel, a perfectly safe venture for the vendor so far as the writer is concerned, by the way. This has been the impulse for a daring wager during the last few weeks.

Two neighbor ladies recently engaged in a sewing match, each concocting a shirt for her husband, the last to finish her task to buy the buttermilk for both.

Truly these be degenerate days, when respectable matrons can dissipate like that, unnoticed and unreproved. But, of course, the innocent husbands have to suffer the real penalty. They have to wear the shirts.—Portland Oregonian.

Land Reclaimed From Lake.

Montenegro will gain a navigable outlet to the sea and nearly 30,000 acres of rich new land, by negotiations pending between Jugo-Slavia and Albania, which have as their objective the lowering to sea level of the ancient lake of Scutari.

The project involves a cost of $2,000,000 and will lower the level of Scutari lake by eight feet through the deepening of the River Bojana, from Scutari to the Adriatic.

The draining of the lake shores will increase Montenegro's territory 29,650 acres of rich land. This addition will make Montenegro self-supporting for the first time in its history.

HAS ICE AT ALL SEASONS

Montana Indian, Digging Well, Seemingly Came Upon Most Remarkable Freak of Nature.

More than eight years ago John Spotted Wolf, an Indian of the Cheyenne reservation in eastern Montana, decided that he should like to have a well near his log cabin. So he and his wife Mary chose a spot near a large pine tree, perhaps 20 rods from the door, and then John began to dig.

By noon of the second day he had dug down ten feet. Although the weather was mild, he had complained of being cold while at work. After eating he put on an extra coat and went to work again. He kept Mary and her brother Rolling Bull busy hauling up and carrying away the dirt that he loosened. But in spite of John's extra clothing he still was cold. On the third morning he added more clothing; but when night came and the well had reached the depth of 18 feet he was almost frozen.

The next morning he again descended the well and worked as rapidly as his many layers of clothing would permit. After a while water began to appear. Suddenly he shouted: "Pull me up! Pull me up!"

John had barely reached the surface before the well filled to within a foot of the top and then began to freeze around the edges. In a short time only a small opening perhaps a foot in diameter remained.

The well remains the same way year after year, the Youth's Companion states. During the day in summer the sun melts the ice around the top, but at night it freezes again. The well, which furnishes a permanent ice supply for the people in the neighborhood, is a strange freak of nature of which there are so many in the western part of the state. Tourists who visit the reservation regard it as a great curiosity.

BETTER THAN DISH WASHING

Student Finds Occupation of Driving a Taxi Allows Him More Time for His Books.

The passerby stopped beside the taxicab parked near Bryant park, remarks the New York Sun. He had passed the same driver several times and had noticed he was reading. Once it was Plato's dialogues, another time John Ruskin's "The Stones of Venice," and now his interest was spurred to the questioning point by observing the driver was delving into Aristotle.

"I'm working my way through college," he said. 'I heard about students who washed dishes and all that sort of thing. But taxi driving is the ideal job for the student. I don't start to work until late in the afternoon. I have a rush at only certain hours. The rest of the time I spend studying. You get plenty of time in between fares to learn the Euclid, the history of the pyramids, and why Ruskin is dead against too much purple in painting. I suggest taxi driving any time instead of waiting on tables."

Thought Photographed.

Commandant Darget of the French army and a noted military criminologist as well as psychologist, experiments in thought photography, resulting in pictures of objects suggested mentally, which, when projected from the mind to a highly sensitized photographic plate held against the forehead of a subject, leave a tangible impression of the object thought of at the moment.

If a criminal fears talking in his sleep, what double-distilled horror will he not know when he comes to realize that the very thoughts of his waking hours may be read at police headquarters as if in cold print, perhaps even more clearly than if he himself were present trying to evade questions?

Fish's Vision Limited.

To the fish the surface of the water, seen from below, presents a circular window surrounded by mirrors, according to Edward Ringwood Hewitt, author of "Secrets of the Salmon," soon to be published by Scribner's. It seems that a fish can see out into the air only through a limited aperture; everywhere else the surface reflects the contents of the stream, or (if it be a shallow one) the bottom. This is because the light rays passing from water to air are bent, and when the angle of the light ray from the fish's eye with the vertical becomes great enough, it is bent backward so that it does not enter the air at all, but is directed downward toward the bottom.

In Your Garden.

It is truly wonderful how many birds will visit modest gardens during a year. They will, during the spring migration, be most in evidence from early daylight till breakfast time, and then again as evening comes on, says the American Forestry Magazine. When autumn approaches, the migration that takes place is equally interesting. In winter we may look for various finches, sparrows, crossbills, hawks, owls, and not a few other species that come to us during that time of the year.

Named After Balfour.

Large numbers of Jewish children born in Palestine during the last month have been given the first name of Balfour, after the British acting foreign secretary. The earl of Balfour is the author of the Zionist declaration bearing his name, and is also credited with bringing about the approval of the Palestine mandate which secures establishment of the Jewish national home.

SIR GILBERT PARKER DENOUNCES PLAN TO CENSOR LITERATURE

By Rob't Starr Thornburgh International News Service Staff Correspondent.

New York, Sept. 28.--No man should set himself up to judge what others should or should not read, in the opinion of Sir Gilbert Parker, whose "Right of Way" and "The Weavers" were among the literary productions of the age.

Sir Gilbert has just arrived in New York from abroad. He denounced the censorship of books in no uncertain language, declaring that the idea is "absolutely absurd."

"Such a censorship would be an attempt to impose the temperamental and intellectual limitations of the consor upon the general public," the eminent English author said.

"Let the public decide whether a book is moral or immoral. The laws of the United States cover the question of obscenity. Enforcement of the statue is sufficient safeguard for the reading public."

Writers generally, with Sir Gilbert, have been emphatic in their protest against any censorship of literature.

Strong proof is presented that "some men" are descended from monkeys.

William Jennings Bryan, the old Democratic war horse, admitted as much when he was in the city the other day.

Proof is in favor of those who adhere to the tenets of Darwin, according to the "Commoner."

"However," he remarked, "as much as I would like to attribute the orgin of the evolutionists to the ape I cannot do this without admitting my own ancestors once swung by their tails in the jungles trees."

But Mr. Bryan still maintains that Darwin was laboring under a misapprehension—following the wrong hunch, as it were—and that the present human race didn't spring from worms, bugs, monks, and the like.

The authorities here seem unduly concerned over the question of women smoking cigarettes in public. They've fingered the statutes in vain, finding no laws which would forbid a fair flapper, if she so desired, to mount the Statue of Liberty and puff cigarette smoke in the direction of the City Hall.

Now a lady may walk down Broadway smoking a fag, without having to jam the smoke into her vanity case when she sees a policeman approaching.

Some hotels and theatres maintain smoking rooms for women. Women smoke while waiting for the elevateds and on the park benches.

The general opinion is let 'em smoke— it's their funeral.

Walter P. Frank, a well-known bachelor lawyer, who lived in a fashionable apartment, dressed to go out to dinner the other day.

Then, without apparent reason, he removed his coat, obtained a pistol and ended his life.

Frank was fifty years old. He was a Harvard graduate, a man of wealth and apparently without troubles. His servants said he was a victim of loneliness. They declared he never entertained friends and had no love affairs.

Ik Marvel, in his famous "Reveries of a Bachelor," described aptly the feelings of a single man, as he sat before his fireplace and dreamed of a wife, of little ones and happiness.

Two little country girls from somewhere in Connecticut appeared near Broadway and Forty-second street the other day. They were pictures of health.

Admiration they had, as they peeped into cafe windows, for the fashionably attired ladies supping iced drinks and whiffing perfumed cigarettes.

They wanted to see Pearl White and get into the movies.

A policeman took them to a station house. There the pretty country lasses heard two stories.

A Shine in Every Drop

Their Ages Total 133 Years

The ages of these two total 133 years, the woman, Mrs. Annie Brown of Washington, being one hundred and two years old and her dog, Rover, thirty one years old. The dog has been her best friend for over twenty-five years, Mrs. Brown declares.

The first was of a young woman whose metropolitan mother loved her no more and whose fiance had deserted her. She threw herself in front of a subway train and was sorry when rescued.

The other was of a girl who ended her life because a year in the city, with the attendant cheap, hastily eaten her food, robbed her of health.

"Guess we'll go home," Mary Sotnick, thirteen, and Laura Dion, eleven, sobbed.

Early History Of Maryville Churches Given Last Night At The Pageant

The following history of churches in Maryville was read last night by Miss Hope Moore, who had the part of the Local Church in the pageant, "Bearers of Light," given at the Baptist Church as a part of the program of the Nodaway County Sunday School Association convention that is being held in Maryville:

Early in history the city churches were organized. The Methodist Church South held services in the court house in 1846. Their first church was built in 1867. Among their superintendents are: M. M. Shuffelberger, H. S. Joy, R. C. Seal, and T. H. Leet who is in charge of an enrollment of 150. The church membership is 258.

The date of the Baptist Church organization is not known, but it existed in 1850 and was re-organized May 29, 1870, with eighteen members, Rev. James Hopkins in charge. A charter member Mary T. Graham gave the ground for the church and gave Maryville its name. Rev. George W. Huntley was the first pastor and Mrs. W. A. Burris the first B. Y. P. U. President. Dr. Kemper organized the B. Y. P. U. on September 20, 1891. Among the Sunday school superintendents are: Capt. Charles Hyslop, and Anderson Craig. J. C. Lowry is the present superintendent of an enrollment of 365. The church membership is 470.

The Christian church was organized during the war period and was re-organized with sixteen charter members by Joel M. Wood. Their services were held in an upper room of the school building. Rev. J. G. Encell was the first pastor. In 1870 the church building was finished, and a Sunday school organized. To a membership of 200 in 1877, 400 members were added, in eleven years, of these 130 came by confession and baptism and seventy-four were from the Sunday school. Some of their Sunday school superintendents are: Mr. Hawkins, M. G. Roseberry, Mr. Hosmer, G. B. Roseberry, Henry Westfall and Professor E. W. Glenn, who is Superintendent of an enrollment of 600 and a church membership of 1,000.

Father E. B. Sherwood conducted the first services of the Presbyterian Church on December 13, 1868, in the new Methodist building. Of the thirteen charter members only one is living, among them were: Mrs. H. T. Crane, John Lieber, W. H. Geiger, W. W. Jackson and wife, Miss Emma Cannon, H. A. Avery and Miss Maggie Evans and Lewis Evans. Their first Sunday school was held in the court house. Among the superintendents are: Professor Wells, Professor Swinehart, Fred French and Martin Lewis Jr., who is superintendent of an enrollment of 295, Church membership 350.

The Methodist Church circuit was organized in 1855 and a Station placed here in 1868 by Rev. C. H. Stocking. In March 1863, Mr. Beggs held a Sunday school in the court house. Rev. Daniel Hockett built the first church building. Mr. Ira K. Alderman was Superintendent of the Sunday school in 1869. Other superintendents are: W. F. Smith, H. C. Bower, and Professor C. C. Leeson, who is superintendent of an enrollment of 450. The church membership is 864.

DEMANDS VOLSTEAD ACT BE MODIFIED

The Volstead Act.

Senator Reed said the following about the Volstead Act:

"It is generally conceded that the Volstead act is itself an intemperate act. Some of its provisions are so drastic as to be highly offensive to many people who are strict believers in prohibition; it was hastily written and passed at a time when there was but little opportunity for calm deliberation.

"Indeed, one of the express grounds of President Wilson's veto of the Volstead act was that such a law should not be drawn and passed at a time when calm consideration and deliberation could not be brought to the problem.

"We have now reached that period. One of the provisions of this bill levies heavy penalties upon any physician who shall prescribe beer for the use of a sick man or woman. No such power is granted in the Constitution. It prohibits intoxicating liquors for "beverage purposes,' not for 'medicinal purposes.' A ridiculous situation is presented by the Volstead act permitting the prescriptions of whisky and brandy and prohibiting a prescription of beer. This clause of the law is, in my judgment, clearly unconstitutional.

"Moreover, the Volstead act should be amended so as to protect the people against unreasonable searches and seizures.

Search and Seizure Guarantee.

"The fourth amendment of the federal Constitution specifically provides: 'The right of the citizen to be secure in his person, property, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated, no warrant shall issue except upon probable cause supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched and the person or thing to be seized.'

"We amended the Volstead act in the senate so as to protect the rights of the people under this clause of the Constitution, but at the demand of those who seemed to think the eighteenth amendment was superior to the fourth amendment, the senate amendment was emasculated and made only to provide against the searches of homes of citizens, leaving the enforcing officers free to search the offices, places of businesses, baggage, berths and beds of people traveling in sleeping cars and els,ewhere, and to do this without any penalty provided in the federal statutes.

"A reasonable modification of the Volstead act, so that it shall carry out the true intent of the federal Constitution, so that the rights of the citizen shall be protected against the unwise and often brutal acts of prohibition officials, is, in my judgment, demanded and will be approved by a great majority of the American people."

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE IRISH OFFICIALS DISCOVERED

Dublin, Sept. 28—A plot to buow up the provisional government building and assassinate members of the cabinet was frustrated today. A mine was discovered beneath the building. Two clerks were reported arrested. Captain Considine of the Free state army was killed when his troops were ambushed in County Clare.

FIRE CHIEF WILL MAKE INSPECTION

Will Look Over Business Houses "From Basement Up" to Rid City Of Fire Hazards

Friday morning will mark the opening of a general inspection of all business houses in the city from "basement up" by Fire Chief Burt M. Rowley and members of the Maryville fire department, according to an announcement made this morning by Chief Rowley.

"This is in observance of Fire Prevention Week, which has been designated from October 2 to 9, inclusive," said the chief. "All business houses are to be inspected. The fewer fire hazards a city has, the cheaper will be insurance rates. It is up to the property owners and business men to keep their stores and property free from fire hazards."

The inspection will be carried on Friday and Saturday, and if the work is not completed by that time it will be resumed the first of the week.

In speaking of fire hazards, Chief Rowley frankly admitted that he was superstitious. He believes implicitly in the following omens:

"A crack in your chimney is a sure sign that you are going to move.

"To see a paper hanger over a flue hole indicates an impending loss.

"It is worse luck to look in a dark closet with a match than to see the new moon over your shoulder.

"When the wind moans it is extremely bad luck to burn trash near the house.

"If you smell gas or gasoline and look for it with a lighted match, it is probable that you are about to start on a long journey.

"If you have a pile of rubbish in your cellar, it indicates that a crowd of people are coming to your house.

"The season for flipping cigar stubs in the awning downstairs is closed but the season for storing hot ashes in a wooden box on the back porch will soon be open.

"A quart of gasoline will cause an automobile to move three miles. A similar amount used in household cleaning may cause three auto fire trucks and an ambulance to run a similar distance. Cooks who do not desire to burn their breakfasts should refrain from starting the fire with kerosene."
